Circle the underlined word if it is a noun. Put an X on the word if it is not a noun.

My grandfather and I like to fish from the small dock in his backyard. We often go fishing very early in the morning before the sun gets too hot. Sometimes I accidentally catch a turtle instead of a catfish or a bass. Grandfather helps me put the bait on the hook and take the fish off the hook.

Punctuate each sentence. Tell whether the sentence is exclamatory, declarative or interrogative.

These worms are wiggly. _____

Copy and complete the 7 single-lined math quizzes at the back of this book. If you make any mistakes, make more 7's and keep practicing all summer until you can do them perfectly.

Multiple math skills are reviewed each day so that all skills are reviewed every week or two.

Word problems, graphs, and a variety of other exercises require students to think, not just calculate.

Either reading comprehension or thinking skills are presented on the back of each page in an engaging manner.

Read the poems by Robert Louis Stevenson and answer the questions.

The Land of Counterpane

When I was sick and lay a-bed,
I had two pillows at my head,
And all my toys beside me lay
To keep me happy all the day.

And sometimes for an hour or so
I watched my leaden soldiers go,
With different uniforms and drills,
Among the bed-clothes, through the hills;

And sometimes sent my ships in fleets
All up and down among the sheets;
Or brought my trees and houses out,
And planted cities all about.

I was the giant great and still
That sits upon the pillow-hill,
And sees before him, dale and plain,
The pleasant land of counterpane.

The Land of Nod

From breakfast on all through the day
At home among my friends I stay;
But every night I go abroad
Afar into the land of Nod.

All by myself I have to go,
With none to tell me what to do—
All alone beside the streams
And up the mountain-sides of dreams.

The strangest things are there for me,
Both things to eat and things to see,
And many frightening sights abroad
Till morning in the land of Nod.

Try as I like to find the way,
I never can get back by day,
Now can remember plain and clear
The curious music that I hear.
